Dear David,
I am sorry that I used in a first e-mail word Final Report. As you asked me in your second email about the final report, the report is near completion. I believe the final draft will be available for information and comment prior to being finally published. All delegates from the list on NMTB Conference will be informed to allow them to view this document. It is a major piece of work to put it all together.

Kind Regards

Hi Dominika,

Thanks for your response.

I'm a little confused though, in your first email you said the report was finally here, but the document provided was only summary notes. Just below you said the report isn't finished. How can you create summary notes from something that is still being prepared?

I'd appreciate if you could check when the full report will be finished; I know the consultant was given a brief so there must be a deadline for them.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Regards

Hi David,

Yes, I received your last email and I was going to answer you. I know that the final report is still being prepared and unfortunately, I do not know the date when it will be finished. I know that it can be available to view but I do not know many details.

I am sure that all people who were on the conference list will get some information about that.

Thank you

Hi Dominika,

Did you get my recent email? I'd like to see the full genesis report please, as the one sent previously was just summary notes.

Kind regards,

Hi Dominika,

Thanks for the summary notes attached. I presume there is a much bigger report in existence and this is just the summary? I'd like to see the full report please.

Thanks
